SUNDAY REPORTS. Lynched, and Ought to Be.

DENVER, July 18 .- A News Leadville special says: On Saturday afternoon a miner named Baker entered Manville's hardware store to collect some mining as-sessments, when he demanded of the clerk a revolver out of a show case, and on being refused pulled a revolver out of his pocket and threatened to shoot everybody the store. Policeman John Corbell attempted to arrest him, when Baker told him to stand back. Corbell then rushed at Baker, and the latter fired, wounding him mortally. Baker then rushed up the street, several policemen following. Poceman Stewart caught up and closed with Baker, who fired, fatally wounding Stewart and slightly wounding another policeman. Baker was then overpowered and lodged in jail. The other policemen are now at the head of a large crowd, and it is probable that Baker will be lynched before morning.

A Santa Fe special to the Tribune states that Quingan, who murdered Greigo a few days ago, was taken from the jail Friday night by a body of masked men, who put a rope around his neck, dragged him a short distance to an alley and hung him. His body was subsequently riddled with Civil Service Reform.

NEW YORK, July 18.—A special to the Herald from Richmond says: "It is said have leaked out that special agent Henderson and an expert of the Post Office Department who have been here for several days, have discovered a large defalcation in the accounts of postmaster Forbes of this city. Report says that the postmaster has been given until Monday to make good the missing amount. If he fails to do so it is said that his arrest will follow and the exposure will take place, which will create quite a sensation here. In any event it is stated that the postmaster will be removed and probably some of his subordinates will also step down and out with him.

Held for Murder.

MILFORD, PA., July 18.—In the case ania, who was shot and killed on Friday night, at Honesdale, Pa., by his brotherlaw, Benjamin J. Bartree, of Lodgedale Vayne county, Pennsylvania, the coroner's jury returned a verdict last night charging Bartree with murder in the first degree. Bartree, who is under arrest, says he is sorry he did not also kill Mr. son, a lawyer of Honesdale, as both he and Shouse robbed him. Bartree's plea will be temporary insanity. He is now in jail, under guard. There is great excitement and talk of lynching.

NOON REPORTS.

Gen. Arthur Accepts.

New York, July 19.—Gen. Arthur, he Republican candidate for the Vice-Presidency, has written a letter to Hon. George F. Hoar, accepting the nomination. In it he says the authority of the National Government to preserve from fraud the elections at which its own officers are thosen is the chief point on which the two arties are plainly and intensely opposed. The acts of Congress for ten years have, in New York and elsewhere, done much to urb violence and wrong to which the ballot and count have been again and again subjected sometimes despoiling great cities, sometimes stifling the voice of whole State, after seating, not only in ongress, but on the bench and in the gislatures, numbers of men who were never hosen by the people. The Democratic party, since gaining the possession of two Houses of Congress, has made these just aws the object of bitter and ceaseless asalt, and, despite all resistance, has hedged em with restrictions, cunningly cond to baffle and paralyze them. The Republican party has strongly approved the stern refusal of its representatives to suffer the overthrow of statutes believed to be salutary and just. It has always insisted, and now insists, that the Government of the United States of America is empowered and in duty bound effectively protect elections denoted by the Constiition as national. It is a suggestive and startling fact that the increased power derived from the enfranchisement of the race now denied its share in governing the ountry, wielded by those who lately sought overthrow of the government, is now sole reliance to defeat the party which represented the sovereignty and nationality of the American people in the greatest crisis of our history. Republicans cherish none of the resentments which may have animated the sovereignty and nationality of the resentments which may have arms. They long for a full and real econciliation between the sections which were needlessly and lamentably at strife. They sincerely offer the hand of good will, triotic achievement will not fulfill its destiny until peace and prosperity are esablished in all the land, nor until liberty of thought, conscience, action, and equality of opportunity shall be not merely cold formalities of statutes, but living birth-rights which the humble may confidently claim and the powerful dare not deny. He endorses the civil service resolution and resumption policy. Refers to ques-tions of education, tariff, internal improvements and improvement of water courses, and in conclusion says: There is danger in entrusting the control of the whole law making power of the government to the party which has in almost every Southern State repudiated its obligations, quite as sacred as those to which the faith of the nation now stands pledged. The Sick Man Dying.

LONDON, July 19 .- A Constantinople dispatch reports that some Christians have been massacred at Adana in Asla Minor. The Montenegrin question, it is reported, has been amicably settled. The Porte awaits the consent of the powers to the arrangement, on receipt of which the Sultan will sign. Another Constantinople dispatch says that Hobart Pasha has refused to take command of any squadron sent to attack the Greeks. Troops have just left here for Dardanelles. M. Novetkoff has informed the Porte that the time has arrived for an answer in regard to the execution of the assassins of Col. Commeroff Goschen. The English and Tissot, the French embas-sador; have spoken very plainly to the Sul-tan in regard to decisions of the Conference. Tissot told the Sultan that his throne would be in danger and that the precedent of Egypt might be followed if he refused to carry out the decisions. The Sphinx Speaks.

DENVER, Col., July 19 .- Gen. Grant in an interview, said: "I can say without hesitation that I will give Garfield my hearty support. There is no reason why any Republican should not vote for Gar-field. I know him to be a man of talent, thoroughly accomplished and an upright man. I have nothing against Gen. Hancock : but Garfield is the man for the office." He denied the report that he had complained of Conkling and Logan having deceived him; he had received no letter from either of them, either before or after Henry W. Shouse, of Easton, Pennsyl- the Convention, nor since his return to America. He said of all men, Conkling and Logan were the last for him to find fault with, and he felt more proud of the 312 that stood by him, than if he had received the nomination by unfair means.

Owing to the fact of the selling race being a walk over, the Association substituted an extra three-quarter mile dash. Annie Augusta won by a half length, Sioux second and Dan Sparling third-time, 1:164. The selling race was a walk over for Bradley. The fourth race, hurdle welter weights, one and a quarter mile over four hurdles, Disturbance won by three lengths, Frank Short second and Faustina third—time, 2:24.

MIDNIGHT REPORTS. Explosion in Richmond Postoffice and Steam Say Mill.

RICHMOND, VA., July 19 .- The sureties of postmaster Forbes have obligated themselves to make good the deficiency in his accounts by noon on Thursday, and if that shall be done no steps toward criminal prosecution will be taken. The postoffice is now virtually in charge of the assistant postmaster (Holliday), whose accounts were, by postoffice inspectors, found to be strictly correct. Col. Holliday is one of the postmaster's bondsmen. The boiler of a steam saw mill near Barnesville, Charlotte county, exploded Saturday with a terrific force, killing one colored man, fatally wounding an employee named Bryant, and severely scalding and wounding five others. The body of the man who was killed was very much mangled, and pieces thereof were scattered for a distance of fifty yards around. The engine, weighing five thousand pounds, was blown twenty yards away.

Stealing Letters. RICHMOND, VA., July 19.—A colored letter-carrier, named Leroy M. Lee, connected with the Richmond post-office, was arrested this morning by the post-office inspector, Henderson Shallcross, for stealing registered letters from mails. The letters which had their contents purloined were found in his possession. Lee was examined by United States Commissioner Atkins and was committed to jail in default of $1,000 bail for his appearance at the October term of the court.

Davenport Dodges.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Senator Mc-Donald resumed the cross-examination before the Wallace Committee to-day of Commissioner Davenport as to alleged election frauds. When requested to furnish a list of persons for whom he had issued warrants of arrest, Davenport said he would do so only on condition that the committee pay the expenses of copying. The names could be found on file at the Treasury Department with his accounts.

BREAKING OUR BONDS.

TUESDAY......JULY 20, 1980

The mind shrinks from the contemplation of the misery, desolation and degradation which would be presented in the Eastern counties of North Carolina to-day if the Convention of 1875 had never met That it did meet, and that under its benign action good government has been restored to the tax-paying East and prosperity to every section of the State, is in a large measure due to Governor JARVIS. He was called into the public service at th outset of that period in our history so ful of uncertainty, distress, sad foreboding and painful experience, the first ten years after the War between the States; ten years that were in many respects worse than war. War indeed, had threatened our government and institutions; but the years after the War witnessed for awhile the overthrow of law and civil society. Those years were years of the greatest trial to our people in the civil history of our State, and called into active service the highest qualities of our public men. Throughout all those years of often-disheartening and always disagree able contest; from the rise of Radicalism under the CANBY Constitution, to its culmination under the reconstruction acts in the Constitution of 1868; and from 1868 to 1875, while the forces of Democracy were gathering for the struggle which resulted in the Convention of that year, he was a leader of leaders, and the faithful servant of the people. He bound them to him with strong cords by his successful war upon the plunderers who bankrupted the State's credit by the Special Tax Bonds of 1868, and wasted the people's substance by the special taxes collected in 1869. The Convention of 1875 and consequent restoration of freedom to a despairing people made the bonds between him and them as hooks of steel.

As the action of the Convention of 1875 is to be made an issue in the canvass, it is worth while to recall what led to it, as the other day it was necessary to recur to the history of the Special Tax Legislation. Four years is a long period: many forget in four days. Four years of prosperity, in which the masses of our people have become better off in this world's goods than ever they were before, incline all to forget the sufferings of the past, and some forget even the men to whom they owe relief from oppression and freedom to

The reconstruction measures fell with the most fatal effect upon the Eastern part of the State on account of its great negro population. The effect was well described in the phrase then in the mouths of the negroes in that section. "The bottom rail is now on top." Intelligence, knowledge, virtue, business capacity, were everywhere thrust aside, and ignorance, stupidity, venality substituted in their stead. The county governments were in the hands of the negroes, taxation for county purposes was imposed without limit, and when any work was done for the county it was paid for at three or four prices to reward partisans and favorites. The office of magistrate was filled by scallawags and negroes who knew no law, and could not read it if the book was laid before them. Under such circumstances justice came to be worse than a mockery; men gave up their rights rather than go into those minor courts where brutal ignorance and manners of which a brute would be ashamed were installed in authority. The consciousness that they held the power in these local courts and at the polls affected most unfavorably the conduct of the negroes towards the whites: the negroes took pleasure in exhibiting towards white people a demeanor insolent defiant and aggressive. All this was hard to be borne, but the malice then uppermost in the breasts of the negro and his scallawag associates found vent in a way that put the climax on outrage. The poor white people, in counties where such men were County Commissioners, were sold by Dutch auction to negro masters. Thus, in the plunder of property, in the insecurity of personal rights, in the exposure to insult and outrage, civil society was turned into a scheme of robbery, oppression and degradation. In this condition of things life was simply intolerable; if it had to continue, death was to be preferred And yet for this state of things no remedy could be had except by a change in the constitution, and that could be accom plished fully only by a Convention.

All admitted this, but some of our best and most trusted leaders objected to the risk. The call of a Convention was regarded by many who felt the need of one as a hazardous measure, and a clear, strong mind and firm will-firm by nature, or made so by the discipline of life-were needed to measure the hazard accurately.

Governor JARVIS had no doubts. He had been accustomed from childhood to combat with difficulties and combat suc cessfully; he had been trained to look ahead, to measure and weigh obstacles, and when the end justified to encounter them with dauntless heart. By force of circumstances his disposition had been moulded into a well-tempered combination of with men of every condition, made him one of the best masters of public sentiment in the State. He knew the need he measured the hazard; he struck boldly for the Convention; and in spite of the disadvantages of a household divided on the question of policy, he won. The Convention was called, the East was relieved, and the whole State made free to prosper-

THE NEW SOUTH is certainly "solid" in one respect, and that is in its earnest purpose to organize prosperity and resume industry upon a wholesome basis. Planters and farmers are not only getting out of debt, but the people generally are making themselves independent by developing their mineral resources and promoting all sorts of manufactures, from cotton fabrics to nails, from flour to furniture. The South probably spends $50,000,000 a year less for Northern corn and bacon than it did twenty years ago, and so in regard to many other things. Last year the cotton crop brought $250,000,000 good money into the South, and this has not all been spent in paying back debts. A good deal of it will go to increase capital and industries now growing up. This year it is expected that the return from the great staple crop will be still larger, and in the meanwhile, as the Atlanta Constitution says, with commendable complacency, "our industries are springing up in strength and usefulness, our mineral resources are being developed, and our railroad facilities for transporting and exchanging commodities, West and North, are growing finer every

THE SUPREME COURT filed nine opinions vesterday, digests of which, of course, appear in THE NEWS this morning. These digests are put on the fourth page and to it we refer those who are fond of legal literature.

NEW YORK CORRESPONDENCE.

[Correspondence of THE RALEIGH NEWS.]

NEW YORK, July 17, 1880.

EDITOR NEWS: I have been favored with calls from Hon. R. R. Bridgers, Hon. A. M. Waddell and Maj. Chas. M. Stedman, all of Wilmington, who cheer me, as one of "the dispersed abroad," with information from home, revive recollections of many who are or were dear to me, and help to preserve bright the links of the chain that binds me to the good old State and her good people, especially the older ones whom I knew. Col. Bridgers is of course on railroad business; Col. Waddell is pressed into service as a speaker-and a ost popular and acceptable one-before Hancock and English meetings, in these parts and in Vermont; and Maj. Stedman has been performing the pleasant duty imposed upon him by the National Convention, as one of the committee of thirty-nine, to wait on Gen. Hancock and notify him officially of his nomination. It has been an occasion of rare interest and enjoyment to them, as the papers have fully advised you. Maj. Stedman's account of the after call upon Mr. Tilden and his feeble physical condition, shows how foolish and criminal it would have been in the Convention to put him forward as a candidate. It is evident that he could not have undergone the labor of a canvass, must less of four years' duty as President. And it was the knowledge of this, no doubt, that moved the New York delegation promptly to accept his letter withdrawing his name as a candidate. Otherwise a vast majority of the party would have desired to make amends, through himself, for the fraud by which he and they were cheated out of their rights four years ago. I was yesterday tempted to snatch a few hours from business, by a call from Rev. Dr. Phillips, who was on his way to Rockaway beach. I joined him, set only for the sake of the invigorating sea breeze, but that I might enjoy his company, which no one can do without pleasure and profit. Starting at 2:30 p. m. on a huge passenger boat with many hundreds of passengers, the route was down the beautiful bay, passing Governor's Island, Staten Island, the Narrows, with the three forts there located—one of them Lafayette, where so many Confederate and State prisoners were confined—and Coney Island, with its scores of hotels, we reached Rockaway in about two hours, the pure sea air in the mean time having induced us to indulge in a lunch with lager on the boat. And this was another break ing through with my habit of eating nothing between 8 o'clock breakfast and 6 clock dinner, and drinking nothing at any hour. I was not prepared for the scene which presented itself at Rockaway; not the old Rockaway some mile or so further, but the great "Rockaway Beach Hotel," now nearly finished, the largest, best appointed and most conveniently located seaside hotel in the world. It is erected by the Rockaway Beach Improvement Company at a cost of more than $1,500,000, and is situated on the south shore of Long Island, thirteen miles distant from the City Hall, New York. The building has a frontage of 1180 feet on the Atlantic Ocean, and an equal frontage on Jamaica Bay, with continuous piazzas on three sides, 70 feet wide, and 1700 feet long. Two hundred rooms, the halls, parlors, and all the public portions of the building, are heated by steam; two hundred rooms have firegrates; two hundred and fifty rooms have private baths; six hundred rooms are supplied with running water, all the rooms connect, and each has a closet for clothing. Fourteen of the stairways are enclosed in fireproof masonry, and four elevators run to a pavillion observatory (200 feet square) on top of the hotel, affording an unobstructed view of ocean and bay. The arrangements are ample for 1,500 permanent guests on the American plan, and for 6,000 on the European, with entirely separate and disinct organizations for each. The drainage vstem is such that all sewage and refuse matter is discharged through iron pipes a distance of four miles from the notel. Those who have been subjected to the malarial influences incident to depositing such matter in the sand, can appreciate the care exercised at Rockaway. The

own works, are sufficient for a city of 50. 000 inhabitants. Adjacent to the hotel will be 2,500 single and 800 family bath houses, each supplied with gas and run-ning fresh water. The facilities for reaching the hotel from New York and neigh boring cities are ample, both by railroad

Whether or not Dr. Tanner will ac omplish his forty days' fast, there good reason to believe that others have done so. It is well vouched for that Calvin Morgan, of Poyn-onock, Connecticut, while under strong religious excitement, did fast forty days in 1839-'40, from December 20th to January 29th. He is still living, eighty years of age. My friend, Capt. M. V. Moore, of Lenoir, N. C., tells me that a man in Watauga county fasted thirty-eight days, but died then. Capt. Moore knew the man. His name was Harman. Shall we have fasting matches next, instead of walking matches? The fools are not all

The most singular settlement of a wi case that I remember to have heard of. has occurred in Boston. Perkins made two wills, and his wives made wills, each giving something to the others, until things got so mixed that neither judges nor law-yers nor jurors could make head or tail of them all: and so the lawvers made an arbitrary disposition of the property, setting aside Perkins's will altogether. The lawyers are praised for this, it being stated that they thus put an end to the litigation and to their own fees. It should be said however, to their credit, that this was done after the large estates had been very materially reduced.

The tender mercies of white men in the Northwestern States towards the negroes was manifested at East Atchison, in Missouri, a suburb of Atchison, in Kansas, on Wednesday. Quite a number of negro men who had obtained employment as laborers in brick vards drivers, porters, &c., were driven across the river by a mob of whites. I suppose they were some of the deluded "exodusters," who, getting nothing to do in Kansas, had crossed the river to find work The poor people who have been swindled by designing politicians, will rue the day that they ever left "the old plantations." By-the-way, the exodus appears to have played out. Have the negroes become wiser by the accounts received from those who went away?

Raleigh District Conference.

| Correspondence of THE RALEIGH NEWS |

CLAYTON, July 17, 1880. EDITOR NEWS:-Almost this entire session was devoted to educational interests of the Church. Resolutions endorsing the Louisburg Female College, Prof. Will C. Doub, President, were offered and ap-Resolutions endorsing Trinity were read and adopted. Resolutions of thanks to the citizens of Clayton and vicinity for their kind and liberal entertainment to the Conference.

and also to the railroads for reduced fares to ministers, delegates and visitors to the Conference, were read and adopted. A most impressive and touching scene occurred after the business of the Conference was over. The following resolutions were read by the secretary: "WHEREAS, According to the organic aw of the Church, this year closes the term on the Raleigh District of our beloved presiding elder, Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, a erm of faithful and successful labor, endearing him not only to the ministers of his charge, but also to the entire church

Resolved, That we as a District Conference would express our appreciation of his untiring and efficient labors among us, recognizing the fact that under his carnest and apostolic preaching as well as his wisdom in counsel and administration the Church on this district has been greatly

That it is with sincere regret and sorrow that with the closing of the year we can no longer have his oversight and labors on our district, and would express our warm affection for him, and earnestly pray that the blessings of the great Head of the church may follow him wherever in the providence of God he may be called to abor in the future."

L. J. HOLDEN, [Signed] P. L. HERMAN.

The resolutions were adopted by a rising vote of the whole Conference, and imme diately upon their adoption, Rev. W. H Moon came forward and said: "Dr Wil son, your brethren of the Raleigh District esire to present you a small and yet substantial token of their regard for you as a nan, and their high appreciation of you as Christian minister. They have devolved on me the pleasant duty of presenting i to you. Our affection for you cannot b neasured by the amount we give. It is the offering of loving hearts, and we hope you will accept and derive as much pleasare from its acceptance as we have had in

"The resolutions just adopted recite our sorrow at the prospective parting soon to take place, and this purse is intended to give additional emphasis to the resolutions we have passed. May the head of the church preserve your useful life and give you the true riches of eternal life in the world to come."

Dr. Wilson accepted the token in a shor speech that moved the church to tears. The town of Cary was selected in which

o hold the next District Conference. Rev. L. J. Holden was announced to preach to-night. Rev. W. S. Black of Raleigh filled the pulpit at 11 o'clock. The business of the Conference being over, a motion for adjournment was made which was carried, and after singing the Doxology, the benediction was pronounced by the President and the District Conference was

[Correspondence of THE BALBIGH NEWS.] MORBHEAD CITY HOTEL, July 18. Editor News:—Since the arrival of Saturday's "News" I begin to think the position of its correspondent, just now, about as enviable as that of the proprietor of the hotel was when besieged for rooms. Every body that has any fault to find privately interviews me, and suggests that such a defect be noticed, such a grievance recorded, such an omission mentioned,

until I am almost ready to exclaim

"I AM NOT A CUSSING PARROT;" do, please do, your own fault finding." All however unite in applauding my mention of the want of "courting corners," and a grand "flirtation field" like the old bridge at Beaufort, and at least twenty-five young gentlemen have made suggestions as to appropriate nooks, and I am sure, were they all carried out, this would be the most charming summer resort in the United States. The parlor is worse than a tault—it is a blunder-and the stockholders ought, before next season, to do as they have done at Old Point; knock down the partition between half-a-dozen bed rooms, and turn the space into a parlor off the ball room opposite to the lower end of the dining room. It need not be so large, as the dining room, but should face the ocean, have a gallery in front, and open from the ball-room. Were this done the ceiling on the lower floor would be high enough for singing, the room easy of access, and a pleasant meeting place for those ladies who don't care to dance, but yet would like to show their toilets where they could be seen to advantage.

THE DINING ROOM

is large, and well appointed with everything except waiters. The proprietor says he has enough for his regular guests but not enough for an excursion. Three or four tables are not used, and guests grumble no little at being put out of their regular seats by a rush of excursionists. They say, with truth, that if excursionists are taken n they should not be allowed to swamp the regulars. But neither should the waves of the Atlantic be allowed to break over a hotel, as they did last summer, and excursionists are as unmanageable as angry waves; and when bent on coming in, as resistless

The insurance agent on duty reports the kitchen too small, and badly contrived for feeding such a number. I shall not express an opinion as to this, for when I tried to get into it, Mr. Hall, the chief of the dining-room, bribed me not to do so, and as

I SWALLOWED HIS BRIBE. shan't betray him. He thinks before next season the soulless corporation will suffer so much in the stomach that they will make better arrangements. There is great complaint about the scarcity of sea food, fresh fish, oysters, clams and crabs, which defect could easily be remedied if the stockholders would build houses in which fish could be kept alive till wanted for the table. A fish kept on ice is not the same bonne bouche as one fresh from the water. And fish, like women, are sometimes capricious, and refuse to be caught just when desired. If the proprietor could engage boats to fish regularly for him, and take all that is brought in, keeping them alive till needed, there would be a supply always on hand and people who come to eat fish would not have to take salt ones in place of fresh. Another great want is a steam laundry for promptly washing and drying not only the linen of the house, but the clothes of the guests, as there is a general cry among the mothers for laundresses. Just here I am interviewed by three or four young ladies, whose names I shall keep a profound secret, who beg me to say the ball-room is badly lighted, and wellappointed toilets lost for want of gas-burners on the pillars around it. The centre burner is large enough, but too high o light the whole room as it ought to be. We had

ast night for the first time, led by Mr. Borden, of Goldsboro, and Miss Raine; among the couples I noticed Miss Eleanor Haywood, of Raleigh, with Mr. George Strong, and Miss Julia Griffin, of New York, with Mr. Manning, Miss Sallie Arrington and Mr. Castey, of Goldsboro, and Mr. Dewey with Miss Cherry, of Greenville. But all the ball-room belles are

"LITTLE MISS PRIMROSE, not of the Franklin Square Library, but a smiling little maiden of three months old, the daughter of Mr. Wm. S. Primrose, of Raleigh, who, like Dot's baby in the Cricket on the Hearth, is handed around on the gallery," like something to drink, and allows her dewy lips to be sipped by all comers with the same unconscious sweetness. She is certainly the best, and the prettiest, little damsel of her age that ever brightened a hotel; her hair is something wonderful in its soft silky profusion, and her eyes—black as night—seem never to know a tear. She "receives" every morning in her bath tub, and is surrounded by a crowd of baby worshippers, who do not, however, burn tobacco at her shrine, as some of the young gentlemen here do before their goddesses. No place is sacred from cigar smoke, to the great annoyance of some ladies who are nauseated by clouds of it blown into their faces: while the dance was going on last night, lighted cigars were puffed in the ball-room, and when I retreated this morning from the gallery before the smoke of six in a group of young ladies, I found two in the parlor, and encountered one just inside the dining room; and felt like the little girl who wanted to learn the commandments and say her prayers, so she could go when she died "where mens didn't spit to-bacco on the floor;" only I think I would prefer reaching that place in this life. Among the visitors I notice Judge Ashe of the Supreme Court, Prof. Rheinhart and family of Thomasville, and Colonel Mimms and family of Georgia. M. B. C. Old Uncle Mose can be the most solemn old darkey on Galveston Island when there is occasion for it. Yesterday he caught a little milk-and-molasses colored imp tod-dling out of his garden with his biggest watermelon. Gravely relieving the "lightcomplected" child of his burden, the old man, with a face longer than his arm, said to the weeping boy: "Tain't your fault, of THE RALEIGH NEWS, CHAPEL HILL, July 17. EDITOR NEWS: The Normal school indulged in a little recreation last night.

You don't know, probably, anything about an entertainment known among "normalites" as a "walk around." sionally the teachers neet on Friday night, at the University library, not to dance, but to promenade, or "walk around" as they call it. In spite of a rather common place name, the "walk around" is a most enjoyable affair. Last night the usual order of things was reversed, and it was agreed that the ladies should be allowed to njoy their leap year privileges. We were to have a "leap year walk around." Accordingly, the ladies sent invitations to the gentlemen, asking the pleasure of escorting them to the hall, &c. In short, the adies became beaux, and the gentlemen pelles. The novelty of the affair drew out a larger crowd than usual, and all seemed to enjoy it hugely. It was very pleasant to see that the ladies paid particular attention to the elderly gentlemen, not confining themselves to the younger ones, as the gentlemen would probably have done under the same circumstances. Many a fine young fellow had the conceit knocked out of him and was left to grace the walls. Some of the old men were "walked around" so industriously that it became a serious question whether they could stand so much excitement without damage. I don't know the result but dare say that more than one old man slept late this morning and rose with stiff joints. Moral; leap year "walk arounds," at the Normal School are very nice things indeed, but are rather exciting for the average old man, and it is prudent not to have them too often.

A splendid rain fell night before last and the crops are smiling under the effects of the hot sun and moistened earth. Prof. Adney gave the school a talk this morning. We hoped to hear Rev. C. T. Bailey of your city, to-night, but he failed to put in his appearance. We hear he is not well. Hope we will soon have the opportunity of hearing him. X, KILL THE CLERK, BUT PAY THE BILL.

A worthy Southerner was speaking of the distress through which his State had passed. "We lost everything in the world but honor," he said. "Why, Sir, there was Col. Carter, of Cartersville, as hightoned a gentleman as you ever saw. He'd lost everything in the world but his honor. Now. Grant sent a Yankee Postmaster to Cartersville, and one day the Colonel wanted to send a letter to his factor in New Orleans, and, as he'd lost everything but honor, he asked the Yankee to trust him for a three cent stamp, and the fellow wouldn't do it, and, of course, the Colonel do you know, Sir, it took all the exertions of Judge Bowie and some of our most influential citizens to prevent that thing from coming to a lawsuit?" This is not unlike the narrative of the two Kentuckians at a Chicago hotel. One of them was fiercely disputing the correctness of the bill which the clerk had just presented to him, when the other took him by the arm and said: "Colonel, never forget you are a Kentuckian. Kill the clerk, but pay the bill."

Learning to Swim.

[From the Detroit Free Press.]
"That's a fact," said Mr. Hopkins as he laid down his paper the other evening, "every man, woman and child in the country ought to know how to swim. No one can tell what minute he will be upset. blown up or knocked overboard. Amanda I'm going to learn you how to swim."

"Learn me?" queried the wife as sh paused in her sewing.

"Yes, you. Your life is very precious to me, and I don't want you to lose it because you can't swim ashore when an accident takes place. I can swim like a duck myself, and I feel guilty to think we've been married twenty-one years and yet you'd go to the bottom like a stone if ou fell overboard."

"Why, I never had the least fear," she replied. "There is always some hero around to rescue a lady."

"No one wants to depend on heroes. Of course I'd jump into the water to save a lady; but there are lots of men who wouldn't. Stand up, Amanda, and let me give you the motions of swimming. Now. then, put your hands so, push them forward so, take a sweep and bring them back so. See how easy it's done? You mustn't forget to kick every time you move vour arms.

She went through the motions several times, but so awkwardly that he called out "That isn't the way! The motions ought to be perfectly natural. Now imagine that you are out on an excursion.

"You lean over the rail to view som floating object."

"You suddenly grow dizzy and tumble headlong into the river. Now, what motions would you make as you rose to the surface? What would you do?"

"Well, if a hero jumped in after me I'd lean my head on his shoulder like this. and let him put his right arm around my waist and support me until help arrived."
"Hero be-hange.!! A hero would look nice holding up 190 pounds, wouldn't he?' "He'd look as nice as you would. I don't believe you could keep your head above water to save your life."

"I couldn't, eh? Then I won't learn you a single stroke about swimming.' "Then you needn't." "And if any man ever jumps overboard and rescues you I'll punch his head." "And if you ever jump in after anybody know I'll have to pay his funeral expenses out of my share of this property."

"Very well," said Mr. Hopkins, as he put on his coat, "I see I am not wanted in my own house. If I'm not home to-night it won't do you any good to telephone me at the office, for I shall have the wire grounded."

Going liome from church, she remarked to her husband: "Did you notice that baldheaded man in front of any and how

THE SEAS CROSSED. Great Britain Smopt by Destructive

[Hy Cable to the Herald, 18th.] LONDON, July 17, 1880.—The British Islands have been visited this week by the most fatal and destructive thunder storms on record. The first was experienced at Manchester, on Wednesday. The light-ning struck two houses standing on the banks of the River Irwell, completely felling them to the ground. Two men and one lady were killed and it is yet uncertain whether or not there are any more bodies lying in the ruins. At Kings Lynn whole flock of sheep were killed by lightning on Thursday. At Chester a terrific storm burst over the whole district, killing seven sheep and a number of cows. Forty feet of stone wall was washed entirely away and the hedges were swept clear off by the torrents, At Cork, during violent storm, a man and several cows were killed. At Leicestershire the rainfall rose 121 inches. Seen from the museum tower the Soar Valley presented the appearance of a vast lake. Only the tops of the fence rails and hedges were to be seen, while vast quantities of hay, cattle and sheep floated about until extricated. Traffic and railway service were stopped, the floods putting out the fires of the locomotives. Fifteen head of cattle were killed by lightning at Northampton, and the water rose so rapidly that it flowed in at the windows of the houses. Several cattle were drowned, and many hundreds of tons of hay were swept away. During the afternoon a coal hauler was taking two passengers through the flood, when the porse stumbled over a partly demolished wall, and the whole party were precipitated into deep water. Both horse and passengers were drowned and the driver was washed a considerable distance away. He escaped, however, by seizing a tree. MINIATURE SEAS.

At Swansea no fewer than nine house were destroyed, some of them being swep entirely away. Hundreds of acres of land including many hay fields, are entirely submerged. At Tavistock the heavy rain caused the Tavy to overflow its banks and the water rushed into a coal mine where three men were at work. Before an alarm could reach them they were drowned. The metropolis was visited on Wednesday by one of the most violent hail and thunder storms that have occurred this year. The rain fell in torrents, accompanied by heavy thunder, vivid lightning, and hailstones as large as cherries. In the market at Harborough boats were plying in the streets, conveying provisions to the imprisoned inhabitants. Two men were drowned. At Loughborough the waters are over the tops of the hedges, and resemble an inland sea. Large numbers of horses, cattle, sheep and pigs have been lost. Farm houses are completely isolated, the highway being in some places six feet under water. At Leicester the railway service was re-opened last nich but the Leeds, Manchester and Liverpool express had a narrow escape from destruction just beyond Lyston junction. The embankment is thirty feet high and a viaduct carries the four lines over the brook. where there has been a heavy rush of water. The bridge was apparently all right, but as soon as the guards' van passed it fell with a loud crash into the stream below. The goods and passenger train following the express stopped just in time to prevent it from falling into the yawning gulf. The railway lines are still lying at a depth of four feet. The whole district is one extensive lake.

Tanner in His Cups. [From the New York Herald, 18th.] Several days ago this day was set down by the wise ones as a day that would be a certain limit to the endurance of Tanner, ficance. the great chameleon; yet when the Herald went to press Tanner was not only in as good a condition as he was when the prophecies were made, but in a distinctly better condition. His revival under the use of water is so far the most curious phenomenon in his experiment; but it is not so incomprehensible as to force the conviction that his increase of weight implies the digestion of food. He had gone to the limit of endurance without either food or water. or on a minimum of water. But as the whole human fabric taken together is about eighty per cent. water—as if all the water were dried out of us not more than twenty per cent. would remain by weight-it fol lows that water is proportionally important, and that when a man is starved as to food and water he is more starved for water

[New York Times, 18th.] Among the patients in St. Luke's Hospital, Fifty-fourth-street and Fifth-avenue, is a young woman who carries on her head an artificial scalp. It has taken six years to construct this scalp, and it is not entirely complete yet, but for all practical purposes the experiment on the young woman may be said to be at an end. The material for building the scalp has been furnished by hundreds of volunteers, and over 14,000 different pieces have entered into its construction. The woman's name is Lucy Osborn, and she is in her twenty-fifth year. The only disfigurement apparent to the eye was found about the eyes! Her right eyebrow is gone entirely, and the left one is twisted upward and outward. The eyes themselves are clongated sideways, much like those of a Chinaman, but they are soft and pleasant to look upon. She belongs to New-Medford, Conn., and on Sept. 23, 1874, being at that time 19 years of age, was attending to her work in a button factory. Her hair was arranged in long, luxuriant curls, which covered the entire head. In the prosecution of her work she leaned forward toward a revolving shaft, and her curls were caught in the rapidly-turning cylinder. Her face was wrenched down close to the shaft, the hair refused to give way, and the entire young he looked? I never saw any one so scalp was taken clean off. "Success with Small Fruits"

From the Burlington Hawkeve ! I just rolled out here from the grocer store," said the little green apple as paused on the sidewalk for a moment; chat with the banana peel; "I am waiting here for a boy. Not a small, weak, deli-cate boy." added the little green apple proudly, "but a great big boy, a great hulky, strong, leather-lunged, noisy fifteen year older, and little as I am you will see me double up that boy to-night, and make him wail and howl and yell. Oh, In small, but I'm good for a ten-acre field boys, and don't you forget it. All the boys in Burlington," the little green apple went on with just a shade of pitying con. tempt in its voice, "couldn't fool around me as any one of them fools around banana."

"Boys seem to be your game," drawled the banana peet, lanly; "well, I suppose they are just about strong enough to afford you a little amusement. For my own part I like to take somebody of my size. here comes the kind of a man I usually do business with. He is large and strong is true, but-" And just then a South Hill merchan who weighs about 231 pounds when he feels right good, came along, and the banana peel just caught him by the foot, lifting him about as high as the awning post, turned him over, banged him down on a potato basket, flattening it out until it looked like a splint door mat, and the shock jarred everything loose in the show.

And then while the fallen mer. chant, from various quarters of the globe fished his silk hat from the gutter, his spectacles from the cellar, his handkerchie from the tree-box, his cane from the show. window, and one of his shoes from the eaves-trough, and a little boy ran for the doctor, the little green apple blushed red and shrank a little back out of sight, conered with awe and mortification.

"Ah," it thought, "I wonder if I as ever do that? Alas, how vain I was, at yet how poor and weak and useless I a in this world."

But the banana peel comforted it an bade it look up and take heart, and in well what it had to do, and labor for the good of the cause in its own useful sphere 'True," said the banana peel, "you cannot lift up a two hundred pound man and break a cellar door with him, but you can give him the cholera morbus, and if wa do your part the world will feel your power and the medical colleges will call you blessed."

And then the little green apple smile and looked up with grateful blushes on is face, and thanked the banana peel for is encouraging counsel. And that very night an old father, who writes thirteen house almost ready to sink from weariness, and a nurse and a doctor sat up until morning with a thirteen-year-old boy, who was all twisted up into the shape of a figure while all the neighbors on that block st up and listened and pounded their pillors and tried to sleep and wished that boy would either die or get well.

And the little green apple was pleased and its last words were, "At least I have been of some little use in this great, wide

RACING.—The seventeenth Travers stakes won by Grenada last Saturday is said to have been the easiest race ever run for these stakes. The names of the winners of this stake comprise a line of the best horses ever saddled in America. Its initial number was won by the great Kentucky, who was followed next year by Maiden, the dam of the great Parole. In 1869 it was won by Glenelg, and in the next four years we find the names of the sett, Joe Daniels and Tom Bowling bracketed as its winners. This brings us down to 1874, when Attila's victory was cut out of him with the spurs after a dead heat with Acrobat, when Steel Eyes, Brigand and Stampede were so close up that each owner thought his horse a winner. The next year the watch-smasher D'Artagnan ran away with the stakes in the best time ever made for them. A peculiar thing about this race is that it has only twice been won by fillies, in 1865 by Maiden and in 1876 by Sultana. And only this year has it been won by a colt who was not admittedly the best of his year. Grenada is a race horse, every inch of him, but he cannot claim first place until the Dixie is lost and won at Baltimore. If he beats Luke Blackburn there he may claim rank with Fa!-

setto and the Duke. As we anticipated, Knight Templar's three-quarters in 1.14\frac{2}{3}, is by no means so good a performance as Hindoo's 1.15 for the same distance. Knight Templar, a 3 year old, carried only 92 pounds while Hindoo a year younger carried 100, and the track over which Knight Templar run was in remarkably fine order. But the son of Fellowcraft is a flier for all that.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—Yesterday morning a colored boy named John Brewer; eighteen years old, employed at Berry's stables, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat. It seems that the boy had been sick for two months with typhoid fever, and that his mind had become slightly affected. Yesterday morning he borrowed a knife from his father, ostensibly to cut his nails. He gave himself three stabs in the throat; two of the wounds were very slight, but one of them pene-trated the wind-pipe. The wounds are not dangerous. Tha attending physician plastered him up, and the boy is doing

WHO STRUCK BILLY PATTERSON?-Yesterday afternoon just after 6 o'clock yells were heard on Fayetteville street as of some one considerably hurt or astonished. A very large crowd quickly gathered and it was found that the yells proceeded from Austin Jones, who said that some one had struck him a real Billy Patterson lick on the head. He howled and squalled until he was led by a policeman to the Mayor's office. We only found one man who claimed to have seen the lick struck or to know anything about it.

The matter will be investigated this

MAYOR'S COURT.-The Mayor reaped a regular harvest yesterday. He first turned his attention to four Sunday drunks, each of which were fined $7.25 and got 12 hours in the guard house. Two parties were fined $5.00 each for fast driving on the streets Sunday. One case of assault and battery netted the city $5.00 and one was sent on to court. One man paid $5.00 for the privilege of cursing another. Ed. Williams was arraigned for larceny but the hearing of the case was postponed until this morning, and for be

GLASS BALL SHOOTING. - A member of the Raleigh Gun Club has received a letter from the committee of arrangements of the glass ball shooting at Hendersonville, giving some further particulars of the arrangements. The matches for the championship of the South and for the Citizens of Hendersonville purse of $100 will be hot from a single revolving trap. In the sweepstakes the single Bogardus trap will be used. Up to the 16th of July teams had entered from Columbia, Winslow and Spartanburg. A team will also enter from Raleigh. A large crowd and a good time is expected.

PITCHFORKS, SHEARS AND KNIVES. -Yesterday afternoon Alec Terry and Charles Shackelford, both highly colored, engaged in an argument on Wilmington street. They became so earnest in the discussion that they at last resorted to physical effort, and just as one of them was seeking to poke conviction into another with a pitchfork, and the other was attempting to shed light on the subject with a knife and a pair of shears, the police grabbed them and took them before the Mayor, by whom they were bound over.

ORDINATION IN CHRIST CHURCH. Specially interesting services may be expected in Christ Church, this morning. Bishop Lyman will admit to the Diaconate Mr. B. W. Daugherty, for some time in charge of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Edenton. The services will begin promptly at half-past 10 o'clock. and the public, as to all services and at all times, are cordially invited to attend.

ABSTRACT OF TAXES .- J. W. Finch register of deeds for Davidson county, is the first to send to the Auditor the abstract of taxes for his county. The report is as follows:

number promises well. Price $1.50. It has our cordial good wishes. The Wilmington Star is "glad to learn from Col. J. W. Atkinson, who has just returned from Baltimore, that the condi-tion of his father, the Bishop, has very much improved, and that he thinks, provided no unexpected development place, he will certainly get well. The Bishop has been suffering from a complication of disorders." The Greensboro Patriot says that the New Garden Agricultural Society will hold its third grand public fruit fair at the fair grounds near New Garden Station, on the North Western North Carolina Railroad, more commonly called the Salem Road, on Saturday, the 7th day of August next, to which everybody is invited. The Society offer premiums on apples, peaches, pears, plums, grapes, watermelons. musk melons, tomatoes, and flowers; and com petition is desired and invited from every section.

The Charlotte Observer says that "Mr. John T. Sustaire, of Mecklenburg, has recently secured a patent on an improved cotton chopper, which promises to become an important and useful invention to cotton growers. It is claimed that this machine, with two men and two horses, is capable of doing the work of sixteen men and four horses under the old process of plow and hoe. In the construction of the machine are employed two sets or gangs of hoes, one operating on one side of the machine and the other on the other side, and to which a circulation motion is imparted by separate crank-shafts rotated by gears fixed on the revolving axle of the rear transporting-wheels of the machine. Each set of hoes is followed by plows, which throw dirt up to or around the plants that have been thinned out, and both hoes and plows may be lowered or raised by levers acting on sliding guide bars or plates with which they are con-

The skull and horns of an uncommonly large mountain ram were found embedded in a pine tree in Idaho. It is supposed that the beast was caught and starred in the tree when it was a sapling, leaving his head to be overgrown by the wood.

THE OFFICIAL REGISTER of the United States, better known as the Blue Book, recently issued from the Interior Department, contains the names of 97,500 Government officials, including officers of the Army and Navy Sixty-six thousand of them are employes in the Postoffice Dea Judge, a presecuting officer, and asheriff. the latter of whom applies the lash according to the sentence. The price of lias appear to countenance these proceedings.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics reports that the total values of the exports of domestic provisions and tallow from the United States during the month of June, 1880, were $13,813,519, and for June. 1879, $8,119,115. During the twelve months ended June 30,4380, $120,673,-860, and during the same period in 1879 $110,031,058.

Last week's weekly statement of the New York Associated Banks shows the following changes: Loans decrease $1. 119,000; specie decrease $206,600; legal tenders increase $1,290,600; deposits increase $1,523,800; or clustion decrease $37,100; reserve increase $702,050. The banks now hold $18,471,265 in excess of legal requirements.

James Jackson, a wealthy farmer, of Ripley county, Indiana, 48 years of age, who had committed an outrageous assault on his daughter, 22 years of age, and sent her to Missouri to hide the evidence of his guilt, took strychnine and killed him self when the girl returned a day or two ago and threatened to expose him. He leaves a wife and four children.

A liberal subscription has been started. and $50,000 raised already towards the construction at Wilton, Connecticut, (where a good sized farm has already been set apart for the purpose) of an inebriate asylum for women. Among the subscribers are the President, Vice President and al the cabinet, together with the chief inicers of all the departments, thirty-five Governors and ex-Governors of States, and no end of judges, professors, leading lawyers and eminent physicians.

Jay Gould, Col. Scott and other railroad magnates have contracted to complete the New Orleans Pacific Railroad by Jan. 1, '81. The New Orleans Democrat says that "the construction of this road will make New Orleans the great Southern terminus of the Texas Pacific Railway; it will open up to us the whole of the North and North eastern Texas and Southern Arkansas. which rich and populous region is now entirely tributary to St. Louis and the West, and will be the means of adding vastly to our rapidly increasing grain trade."

The Louisville Courier-Journal of Sunday announces that the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company have negotiated through Messrs. Drexel, Morgan & Co., with the Barings, of London, for the sale of $20,000,000 of their bonds, having fifty years to run, at 6 per cent.; $10,-000,000 of this amount is intended to take up and retire all bonds now outstanding under its several existing mortgages. A general mortgage for the $20,000,000 is now being recorded in the several counties through which the road passes.

Col. Cash, the surviving principal in the recent fatal duel, came before Judge Mc-Iver, at Cheraw on Saturday on a writ of habeas corpus, and was admitted to bail in the sum of $3,000. Considerable excitement was occasioned in Cheraw previous to the hearing of the application by an at-tack made by a son of Col. Cash upon Mr. Pegues, editor of the Cheraw Sun, who had denounced the duel in his paper. Young Cash and his father had both drawn their pistols, the latter avowing his intention to see a fair fight, and Mr. Pegues was only saved by being thrust by his friends into an open doorway, where he was locked up. No arrests were made.

Information received by the Treasury Department states that the Italian Government will put an import duty on cottonseed oil. This will be done to protect olive oil, which is one of its largest articles of export. It appears that large quantities of cotton seed oil are produced in this country and exported to Italy. There, without any change or addition, it is put up as olive oil, branded as such, and exported as the genuine article. A large trade has grown up in cotton seed "olive" oil. It is stated that the cotton seed oil is as good, if not better, for all purposes, than the genuine olive oil. Many prefer it.

The New Orleans Picayune says that between 5 and 6 o'clock on the 12th inst., the passengers on the Mobile train saw a water-spout descend from the clouds about half the distance to the water, between Cat Island Light and Merrill Shell-bank Light. After reaching the point referred to, a volume of water from the Mississippi Sound rose and joined the former, thus making one continual spout reaching from the Sound into the clouds. This was visible one hour and a half. The phenomenon was followed in about one hour from its first appearance by a heavy storm of wind and rain. At Pass Christian and other points trees and buildings were blown down.

OPINIONS FILED MONDAY, JULY 19.

Ву Ѕмітн, С. Ј.: Currie vs. McNeill Moore. Modified and affirmed.

When a suit is dismissed at the defend ant's cost, a suit or counter-claim against him, brought or set up more than three years later, is barred by the statute of limitations. Where collections are not required by the exigencies of an estate and the funds, if collected, would have to be re-invested, it is not negligence in such executor to allow the fund to remain undisturbed, it being already properly secured.

Where collections of Confederate currency are not subjected to scale, disburse-ments should be allowed at their face value. Where an executor collected debts due his estate in Confederate currency, he keeping such sums separate and apart from his own money, he will be allowed credit for so much money as he thus collected and kept separate, and no more. An exception that the general result of a report is incorrect is too indefinite to be considered.

Simmons ve. Taylor and another. Bertie. Reversed. 10

A non-resident of this State sued in the State courts for trespass jointly with a citizen of this State, can on application at the return term have the suit so far as he is concerned transferred to the federal courts if the amount exceeds $500, and if the suit can be finally determined as to him apart from his resident co-defendant.

Womble vs. Leach. Wake. Affirmed.
In this case the plaintiff claimed a lot of cotton raised by one Sandy Williams under a mortgage of March 12, 1877, and the de-fendant claimed the same cotton under a mortgage of the 20th of the same month. The defendant moved to dismiss the action on the grounds that the complaint did not state a sufficient ground of action and that the superior court had not jurisdiction. The complaint averred title to the cotton in the plaintiff, its delivery to the defend ant, and its appropriation by the defendant after demand. The court held the complaint sufficient and also held that the act of conversion being tortious the Superior Court had jurisdiction.

The following principles were also decided in this case :-

1. Delivery to one by order of another is a delivery for all legal purposes to him who gives the order.

2. Where a fact is asserted in the complaint and not denied in the answer, and no issue as to it is submitted to the jury, a refusal to instruct the jury that there is no evidence of such fact is proper.

3. Equities among different creditors will not be settled in a suit for the possession of specific property.

4. When articles are furnished by a mortgagee and accepted by a mortgagor as a compliance with the contract, although not strictly articles "expended" in producing a crop, such acceptance and delivery are conclusive between the parties and also against a subsequent mortgagee.

Goff, Cranston & Braswell vs. Pope. Nash. Affirmed.

Where the description of property conveyed by deed is vague and indefinite, parol evidence will be received to fit the article sold to the article described, or the description with the article.

State vs. Baker. Wilson. Affirmed. An indictment for affray charging that a fight took place "in a public place," is limited sections complain of too much, others of too little rain.

Jones vs. Holmes. Cumberland. New A judge cannot settle a case on appeal ufter his term of office has expired.

Hot weather last week was a serious drawback to general business in New York. The chief speculative interest for the week was in wheat, caused by various reports from the growing crop at home and abroad. The promise of a favorable authmn trade is considered good.

In the cotton market in New York last week the speculation in futures was moderately active, but prices declined day by day. The sales were 226,500 bales. Spot cotton was dull until Wednesday, when a fair business was done, but the market closed business was done, but the market closed weak; the sales were 4,050 bales, of which 2,049 for export, 1,092 for consumption, 109 for speculation.

The New York flour market has not for speculation.

The New York flour market has not been so active and buoyant; in fact, there has been at times some appearance of weakness; but in the aggregate trade has been good and prices have made some further improvement. The demand has been mainly for export. The wheat market has been irregular and unsettled, both as regards tone and prices. The business in the regular way has been checked by the scarcity and higher rates of ocean freights. The speculation has been active, and prices fluctuated with crop accounts. Corn declined, and oats were dull.

The dry goods trade movement has been slow the past week, taking into consideration the large number of package buyers now in the morket. The extreme warmth of the weather checked operations in some descriptions of goods, and the still unsettled condition of the cotton goods market caused many buyers to limit their purchases to such moderate parcels as are likely to be required for early distribution. The most satisfactory feature of the week's business has been a very material improvement in the demand for cotton goods for expert, large orders for which were placed with agents representing some of the leading manufacturing corporations. The exports of cotton goods during the week were 4,540 packages. 540 packages.

> It is well known that hot weather brings sickness, and that few people go through the Summer without unpleasant sympparched, the tongu furred with white the pulse irregular, the head feverish, the body cramped and the limbs swollen and tired. Ladies especially, with their natubearable, while little children are dying every day from exhaustion and because parents peglect precaution and care. A prominent and well known physician of that more than three-fourths of all so called Summer complaints arise from disordered secretions, and that these secre tionary organs, which, by being out of order cause so much trouble, are the Kidneys and Liver. These organs are the governors of the system, and by their movements the other parts of the body are regulated. The brain controls the life, but the lower part of the body rules the health, There is one, and only one known vegetable that will absolutely regulate and control the Kidneys and Liver at all times and thus prevent the many dangers of the Summer. That vegetable (a West India leaf,) is used as the basis of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. It is pure, pleasant to the taste and absolutely certain in its results. It keeps those who intelligently use it in perfect health, and cures those whose secretions are deranged. For infallible. For all bilions troubles it is certain. An Editor's Escape. OFFICE OF THE "INDUSTRIAL ERA," ALBIA, IOWA, May 26, 1880. TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

To Whom IT MAY CONCERN:

I take great pleasure in making the following attament: I have been afflicted with a disease of the kidneys for the past two years and have tried numerous remedies with only partial and temporary relief. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Gure was recommended to me, and after taking it the pain and distress left me, and I am to day feeling strong and well. I am perfectly satisfied that Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Curs is the medicine needed and can cheerfully recommend it to others.

G. W. STAMM.

A Doctor's Certificate. I hereby certify that I have been a practicing physician for twenty-seven years, and for many chronic cases in my practice decremend Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. It was upon my advice that G. W. Stamm, the editor, obtained this valuable remedy.

A. A. RAMSAY, M. D.

I have been greatly troubled with my kitneys and liver for over eventy years, and during that entire time I was never free from pain. My medical bills were enormous, and I visited both the Hot and White Springs, noted for the curative qualities of the water. I am happy to say I am now a well man, and entirely as the result of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. With such glorious results, I am only too glad to testify regarding the remedy which has made me so happy.

(REV.) P. F. HARKLEE. Coal Run Crossing, Arkansas. A Paster Made Happy.

The Rev. C. A. Harvey, D. D., of the Howard University, of Washington, has written the following letter:
GENTLEMEN—I take great pleasure in stating that I have for two years past been acquainted with the remedy known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and that in some cases which had been given up by practitioners of both schools, the apeedy change wrought by this remedy speedy change wrought by this remedy seemed but little less than miraculous. I am convinced that no remedy for kidney troubles heretofore discovered can be held for one moment in comparison with it.

Respectfully yours,

C. A. HARVEY.

THE PRESS.

An alarm of fire at midnight is a startling thing, but not half so startling to many who hear it as would be the sudden knowledge of their own dangerous physical condition. Thousands of thousands car condition. Thousands of thousands are hurrying to their graves because they are carelessly indifferent to the insidious inroads of disease and the means of cure. It is the mission of H. H. Warner & Co., with their Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, to arouse men to a sense of their danger and then cure them.—Memphis Appeal.

The Friend of Delicate Ladies. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure is the remedy that will cure the many diseases peculiar to women. Headaches, neuralgia, disordered nerves, weakness, mental shocks, and kindred ailments are effectually removed by its use.—The Mother's Mogazine.

Its Grand Reputation. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has reached a reputation that is not limited by the confines of section or country. There are no injurious substances nor false and temporary stimulents in the preparation. It is purely vegetable and compounded under a formula, that has passed severe tests and won endorsements from some of the highest medical talent in the country.—New York World.

THE ONES THAT USE IT. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure is highly endorsed by ministers, judges, physicians, sucgeons, by men of literary and scholarly distinction, and by individuals in all the walks of life.—Chicago Times.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS. Our exchanges come to us bountifully laden with commendatory notices of the wonderful ourse effected in disease of the kidneys and liver, and especially of dropsy, by the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure used in connection with Warner's Safe Pills. We feel sure that if such of our friends who are suffering from like troubles would but use these reme dies they would be benefitted.—St., Alkans Advertiser.

FOR YOUNG AND OLD. Warner's Saie Kidney and Liver Cure commands to day a large and widely extended sale. As a speedy and sure cure this remedy is and, and the cases wherein it misses are those beyond the reach of human relief. It is in the highest sense hygienic, and can be used by young and old with equal edvantage.—Beaton Journal of Commerce.

"IT SAVED MY LIFE."

SELMA, ALA., May 16, 1880. MESSES. H. H. WARNER & Co., J. Gentlemen—I have been suffering from kidney complaint from childhood, and have spent a small fortune traveling to different waters and doctoring. A physician recommended your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure so strongly that I finally purchased a bottle, and from that day to the present time I have gotten better, and now feel like a new man. I am well, You may use my name if you wish, to aid in bringing the Great Dispovery into general use. It did for me what dectors failed in doing. It saved my life. Too much can not be said in its favor.

Fraterually yours,

"IT IS THE ONLY THING."

PEEKSHILL, N. Y., April 13, 1680. Merses. H. H. Warner & Co.:

Gents—My wife has been suffering for the past five years from the results of a premature birth, and during that time she has been under the dect we care and frestment, for a disease posuliar to the female sex, and generally named as a falling of the wont. After a thorough examination the doctors finally concluded she had inflammation of the bladder, and changed their treatment accordingly, but as before, without helping her in the least. We at last despaired of her ever being any better, and after expending an enormous amount of money, gave it up. But a little while ago one of your pamphlets having been left at my house, and her symptoms being so accurately described therein, we concluded to try your. Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and I can truly state that after five years of faithful trial of physicians, this is the only thing that has done her the least good. Sincerely.

G. E. Wood. MEPSES. H. H. WARNER & Co.:

"I ADVISE ALL TO TRY IT."

LEAVENWORTH, KAS., April 16, 1880. MESSES, H. H. WARNER & Co.: Messes. H. H. Warner & Co:

I have been troubled, more or less, for the past six years with inflamination of the bladder. About two years ago it assumed a chronic form, and my suffering was great. I consulted the best medical aid in the country and expended large sums of money, but only found temporary relief. I concluded to try your Warner's Safe. Eidney and Liver Cure, and after taking only half a bettle I found I was benefitted. I have now taken four bottles, and have experienced permanent relief. I certainly advise all to try it
